GAME OF STONES is a monopoly-inspired board game simulation designed to help professionals experience dilemmas at the intersection of Work, Self, Family/Friends and Society, with a revelation that inspires introspection.

Participants go through a process of choice-making that enables reflection about their present and future. The game works as a great companion to workshops on Leading Self, or just as a stand-alone experience.

- Explore unconscious trade-offs
- Enhance self-leadership skills
- Experience immersive gameplay

“Who we are shapes (and is shaped by) the choices that we make”

EVERY DECISION FEELS LIKE A TRICK QUESTION

Because in leadership, the right answer often comes at a cost

Learn a new skill or develop a new hobby?

Kids' dream college or my dream retirement?

Stay the boss or become the mentor?

THOSE WHO LEAD TODAY

& ASPIRE FOR TOMORROW

Designed specifically for professionals to experience dilemmas while balancing professional ambitions, personal responsibilities, and leadership growth

It's one of the best board games I have ever played.
